CLEAN GREENGRILL

Most of our cooking surfaces are supplied with 'GreenGrill coating'. This ceramic coating is made from materials that don't contain any toxic substances. The CADAC GreenGrill is much more durable and harder than normal non-stick coating. It resists higher temperatures, divides the heat better and holds this heat, so less gas (or electricity) is used while grilling. Cooking tops are very easy to clean with some water and detergent. The cooking surfaces can be cleaned with the help of the CADAC Soft Soaks (see page 58).

2 COOK 3 TURBO FFD

Elevate your cooking experience

Step into our world of innovation with the new 2 Cook 3 Turbo. The new inner flame burner design gives a higher heat output onto the cooking surface, so this saves gas and gives a quicker heat up time. The gas consumption can be up to 30% less than other burners.

The 2 Cook 3 Turbo Deluxe includes two pot stands, a ceramic coated flat plate and ribbed plate, with a removable handle for easy lifting. Cooking versatility with independent grill plates gives the option of simultaneous grilling, frying, boiling or heating up of food and coffee.

CLEANING & MAINTENANCE

How do I maintain the CADAC cooking surfaces?

Most of our cooking surfaces (like the paella pan and BBQ grid) have our GreenGrill ceramic coating. Always use wooden or plastic utensils to avoid damaging this coating. Our GreenGrill Brush is perfect for cleaning these GreenGrill coatings.

You can clean the surfaces in (warm) water with a soft sponge or dishwashing brush. You can also use the CADAC barbecue cleaner. Never use scourers or abrasives.

How do I maintain my CADAC barbecue?

To enjoy your CADAC product for a long time, we advise you to thoroughly clean it after each use. Use a full-length, UV-resistant cover when you do not use your BBQ.

Note that our covers are water resistant but not 100% waterproof. If you do not use your BBQ for a longer period, store your barbecue in the storage bags (camping BBQ's) or put it in a garage or shed underneath a decent BBQ cover.

How do I clean my Skottel?

The Skottel stays clean by using CADAC non-stick liner; after use, the liner can be cleaned by simply rinsing with hot water or in a dishwasher. If you don't use the liner, you can clean the Skottel by boiling some water with detergent in it. After that the Skottel can be easily cleaned. It can also be easily cleaned with the CADAC Cleaner.

How do I clean my BBQ grid?

By using the Soft Soak your grill does not get so damaged as traditional scrubs, brushes and chemicals would. The method of leaving the grill to soak in this soft protected environment loosens food and hard to remove grit without the need to scrub and scrape your grills coating off.

How do I clean the fat pan?

While you barbecue, the fat will drip into the fat pan. If you place some water with vinegar or some sand into the fat pan before use, you can easily skim the fat afterwards.
If you don't remove the fat from the fat pan on a regular base you will increase the chance of "flaring".

How do I perform a leak test?

When you connect a hose to your bbq, we recommend to perform a leak test. Always do this outdoors! Prepare a mixture of water (1 part) and detergent (1 part) and spread it on the gas connection. Then turn the gas on. When bubbles appear on the connection, there's a gas leak. You must reconnect the hose. Always close the gas supply of the cylinder/cartridge before you close the gas supply of your barbecue. If the bubbles appear again in a second test, please contact your CADAC dealer.

SOFT SOAK CLEANING

Durable, easy and hygienic

Made from food grade silicone, the environmentally friendly Soft Soak range takes the hassle out of cleaning. Soaking your grill plate before washing means less time spent on cleaning, and more time for you to enjoy the outdoors. No mess, no fuss!

Prolongs your grill pans life

When you use the Soft Soak to clean the grill you maintain the performance of the ceramic coating, cleaning your cooking surfaces without the need for traditional scrubs, hard brushes and harsh chemicals that would otherwise risk damage to these cooking surfaces.

Easy Clean

Soaking your cooking surfaces with the help of the Soft Soaks, facilitate for the easy cleaning of your cooking surfaces loosening and softening grease with the aid of soapy water. A Hygienic material that lasts!
